The sketches provided by the customer will only be used for creating the mask of this order. They will not be used for other customers

With his signature the buyer confirms his design and his wishes

The final price may depend on other external services such as airbrushing or other techniques. If necessary, an additional offer will be obtained from third parties according to the customer's requirements.

The customer receives his order signed by both parties and handed over with his data. If the customer withdraws from the purchase after 10 days after receiving this order, 50% of his deposit will be refunded to his account and his data and sketches will be destroyed.

The buyer will receive professional photos for viewing after completion. After receipt of the remaining purchase sum, the mask will be sent to the buyer in a clean and safe packaging.

The customer will receive a suitable stand for his mask, on which the mask can be placed safely. This also includes a sneaker bag, which the customer can design himself if required. There are also sketches attached.

The provider for this service is the company Spreadshirt in Germany, they quote the price for an individual design, which is added to the offer.
